Crossways supported Joe, Ollie, and Peyton as they joined from the pre-school and they all love being part of the Crossways' school family.

The Crossways Schools

Shona and Sean Ryan have Joe and Ollie in Reception and Peyton in Year 2 plus little ones at home who are looking forward to their Crossways journey starting.

Support from day one

Over the summer before the twins, Joe and Ollie, started in Reception at Crossways, the family received news that Joe has Perthes' disease which effects his hip and means he walks with a walker. "We spoke with school before Joe started and Crossways were very supportive. We have a parking pass so that we can park closer to school's entrance as crossing the road was proving difficult for Joe. I can't thank them enough for helping us settle in."

"Ollie can get anxious on a morning, and they've asked if there's anything they can do to help. His teacher comes out to meet him and we're okay to go in with him and help him settle in the classroom. The teachers are always there to welcome each child, it's a lovely school" says Shona.

Settling in

"The boys have done really well adapting to the new school routine. They have a two-week staggered start which builds to full days. They have settled in well, they haven't struggled," says Shona.

Keeping in touch

Crossways welcomes parents to talk to teachers and staff in school, from catching up at the classroom door to helping with medication, everyone is on hand to talk to. "I'm confident school would let me know of any issues; their communication is brilliant. Joe has medication, the office will always accommodate any changes, nothing ever seems to be any trouble, they're always willing to help," says Shona.
