

The engaging environment and brilliant resources at Ledbury Primary School have enriched James and Evan's educational journey

Andrew and Kim live in Ledbury with their children James, aged 10, and Evan, aged 5.

Enjoying school life

Both James and Evan have adapted well to school life at Ledbury and enjoy sharing their learning experiences with their parents. Andrew says: "They enjoy school life at Ledbury. They absorb lots of knowledge and information at school, then can't wait to share it with us at home. They have a fun learning experience every day."

A brand-new playground

Ledbury Primary School recently built a new playground to provide more opportunities for creative play, which both James and Evan have greatly enjoyed. Andrew shares: "They are very excited about the new playgrounds at school. The fantastic Key Stage 1 playground is such a nice and creative play area, with a new tree house, climbing equipment, and building toys to spark young children's curiosity. The Key Stage 2 playground offers much more space for our older child to enjoy the football, tennis, and games."

Nurturing teachers

Andrew notes that the teachers are incredibly supportive and work closely with the children to nurture their individual qualities: "The teachers are very responsible and approachable. They find and nurture the best qualities in each child while also encouraging and helping the children in the areas they need to improve."

James says: "The library is my favourite place at LPS."

Evan says: "I love my teachers and the new playground."
