Penny is pleased that Kingsway Infant School helps parents to support their children's learning

Warm welcome

Penny says: "It's very friendly and all the staff are helpful and approachable, and it was nice to feel so welcomed."

Maths for mums!

"I'm pretty good at maths but things have changed so much I found I didn't really know how to help him without confusing him."

"I'm more confident now"

"The terminology and the methods he is using now are nothing like the way I had learned at his age, so I was interested enough to attend a parent's class where we were shown how they teach the children so that we can help them at home."

"It's a great idea and was very informative for me; I'm more confident now, knowing that I'm not going to overload him by showing him different ways of doing things."
