

Emily wanted more than just an excellent education for her daughter and has found it at Maldon Primary School

Maldon Primary School
Inspiring success for all

Emily and Ian Ewers live near Maldon with their daughter, Holly, who is five years old.

An all-round educational experience

Emily says: "We had several choices and it was Maldon Primary which particularly impressed us, not just because of its constantly-improving performance but because of the welcoming and caring atmosphere."

Nurturing ethos

"The children's teachers offered to visit before the start of the new term which really helped Holly to develop a closer relationship with them and make her feel even more comfortable in class. I thought it was a brilliant idea, and it also helps us as parents to feel included."

Children say

Holly says: "I love school. I love my teachers and I love learning about space this half term. I like reading and writing and doing gymnastics/PE with different teachers. I feel smart in my uniform."
