

Keith and Jane Hopkinson live in Stevenage with their children, Kizzie 17, and Olivia 15 in Year 10.

Keith and Jane believe teachers who understand and value each child are key to an outstanding experience at Knightsfield School

Mainstream

Olivia has combined conductive and sensori-neural hearing loss which wasn't confirmed until she was nine years old. "Olivia was at mainstream school receiving additional one to one support from a care assistant for fifteen hours a week, but due to the late diagnosis of her hearing difficulties it was clear she was falling behind and would benefit from specialist educational intervention," explains Jane.

Calm and professional

"As soon as we walked into Knightsfield School there was an instant feeling of calm and professionalism. The moment you walk in you know Knightsfield School is where your child needs to be," adds Keith.

Knightsfield School

Specialist Sensory Academy

Knightsfield School - Welwyn Garden
City - Hertfordshire - AL8 7LW

Tel: 01707 376 874 - Fax: 01707 321738
email: admin@knightsfield.herts.sch.uk

Parent says:

"To my mind, Knightsfield School is the best choice around for children with a hearing impairment. I'm glad we didn't go anywhere else."
Claire and Gavin Kelso live in Stevenage with their two daughters Iona, 13 in Year 8 and Hazel, nine.

Professional says:

"Knightsfield School provides a safe, caring and welcoming environment for its pupils. The purpose built classrooms afford superb listening conditions and when coupled with the dedicated, encouraging and supportive team of professionals there, every pupil is given the opportunity to thrive."
Donald A Allan, Senior Advisory Teacher - H/Educational Audiologist.

Head says:

"Hat's off to Knightsfield School!... We were so impressed with the standards of writing by the Knightsfield pupils along with their manners and maturity. What great role models for our children. Please come back again!"
Mary Westley, Head, Welwyn St Mary's C of E Primary School.