Parent says:

To my mind, Knightsfield School is the best choice around for children with a hearing impairment. I'm glad we didn't go anywhere else.

Claire and Gavin Kelso live in Stevenage with their two daughters Iona, 13 in Year 8 and Hazel, nine.

Professional says:

Knightsfield School provides a safe, caring and welcoming environment for its pupils. The purpose built classrooms afford superb listening conditions and when coupled with the dedicated, encouraging and supportive team of professionals there, every pupil is given the opportunity to thrive.

Donald A Allan, Senior Advisory Teacher - HI/Educational Audiologist.

Head says:

Hats off to Knightsfield School!... We were so impressed with the standards of writing by the Knightsfield pupils along with their manners and maturity. What great role models for our children. Please come back again!

Mary Westley, Head, Welwyn St Mary's C of E Primary School.

"The teachers are so in tune with every single child's ability and character; they know how to teach each individual, which is an incredible opportunity for our child."

Sarah and Russell Mackay live in St Albans with their children, Lewis, 15 and Martha, 14 and Donald, 12 in Year 8.

"She's much happier now and I can see she enjoys all aspects of school life. As a result we've seen a growth in her confidence and it's really eased our fears of what life is going to be like for her when she's older."

Keith and Jane Hopkinson live in Stevenage with their children, Kizzie 17, and Olivia 15 in Year 10.

"He has walking difficulties but he loves swimming. He's working with a fantastic teaching assistant who is an ex-pupil of the school who is studying for a sports science degree."

Ary and Kulvinder Doal live in Loughton with their children Demica, 12 and Kurrin, 11 in Year 7. Kurrin is hearing impaired and has cerebral palsy.
